

Breaking News

HT Global Circuits is proud to announce the addition of Pho-Tronics H&T Global Circuits, LLC to our family of factories. This addition is a strategic plan to further continue our commitment to our customers and remain an industry leader.

Located in Milwaukee Wisconsin, Pho-Tronics, Inc. had been in business for more than 50 years. During the course of its long history Pho-Tronics, Inc. has primarily focused on serving the aerospace, defense and high technology quick turn markets for printed circuit boards. Pho-Tronics H&T Global Circuits, LLC . The facility is Mil-certified for the manufacture of rigid PCBs, rigid-flex, RF/Microwave type products, ITAR registered, and AS9100C certified.

H&T Global Circuit Factory, LLC. located in St. Petersburg, Florida, is a leading supplier of prototype, quick-turn PCB's and medium to high volume for commercial and military applications across all end markets. H&T Global Circuit Factory, LLC has been in business for over 25 years and is independently owned and operated by PCB industry veterans.

Ahmad Hamadeh, president and CEO of H&T Global Circuit Factory, LLC. noted, "We are pleased to add Paul Godbout and his staff to our team. The addition of Pho-Tronics H&T Global Circuits, LLC. will allow us to be a single source provider of PCB manufacturing services, from prototype through production, serving all electronics end markets. Mil-certified and high layer count capabilities to our customers which will complement our existing engineering and manufacturing services."

For additional information, visit our websites: www.HTGlobalCircuits.com and www.Pho-Tronics.com.